DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The applicant has misused the word "latte" throughout the specification and claims. This appears to simply be an error, it is presumed that the applicant meant to use the word "lath" instead of the word used.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1 to 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

While applicant may be his or her own lexicographer, a term in a claim may not be given a meaning repugnant to the usual meaning of that term. See In re Hill, 161 F.2d 367, 73 USPQ 482 (CCPA 1947). The term "latte" in claims 1 to 6 is used by the claim to mean a lath or strip of wood, metal, or plastic, while the accepted meaning is a coffee drink.

Claim 6 recites the limitation "said jaws" in line 4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 6 recites the limitation "said handles" in line 5. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 6 recites the limitation "said button" in line 6. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Griffith (5,467,491). Griffith shows a bedsheet retainer that comprises a U-shaped clip 10 with a tab 14 and plate 12 that is attached to a strap 22 and foam retainer pad 26. A plastic strip 20 can be attached to the clip by first wrapping the strip within a bedding item, and then forcing the wrapped bedding with strip into the opening defined by the tab 14 and plate 12. The foam retaining pad can be slipped between the mattress and boxspring to retain the bedding item in place.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 6, as best understood, would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Claims 3 to 5 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Art Unit: 3673

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Carlson, Briscoe, Bennett, Campbell, and Meunier show bedding clamps that are of general interest.
